The report shows total cash balances in all funds in the hands of the county trustee amounting to $521,346.42. This includes balances in sinking fund and interest accounts, however, which can not be used for general purposes.

Roads this sum there is more than $175,000 in the hands of the trustees of the county and city tuberculosis sanatorium, which is drawing interest in bank, until the funds are needed for construction of buildings.

There is a balance in the bridge fund of $19,245, and $51,627 in the special school fund.

Warrants outstanding on Dec. 1 amounted to $108,701, which was the amount of warrants drawn on all funds during the preceding quarter.

Amusements

Loew's Lyceum.

Jules Bonner and Grace Carlisle head the bill which opened at Loew's Lyceum Sunday. They are excellent entertainers. Miss Carlisle has a sweet ballad soprano voice while her partner is an adept at the piano and on the violin. The medley number, featuring "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," is the ace of their repertoire.

Jazz prevails in the turn offered by Arnold Cruger and Myrtle Lawlor. Clever stuff went over Sunday. Billy Bernard and Charlotte Myers have a comedy sketch that is passing. Some new jokes are contained in the act which gets Murphy and Driscoll the laugh from Marcus Loew. Their effort is one that will please.

Opening in Joe and Adie D'Alar, wire workers, whose stunts are good. Alice Lake, features in "Should a Woman Tell?" the feature film. It's an old story of crime and love and where the girl "goes straight" after a career of crime when the right man comes along. The cast is good.

New Lyric.

"Gloriana," the scintillating musical comedy with book and lyrics by Catherine Chisholm Cushing, and the music by Rudolf Friml, will be presented by John Cort at the Lyric Monday night with Fritz Scheff in the title role.

Fritz Scheff is the ideal personification of the impetuous Gloriana, who assumed the role of the widowed friend temporarily. The story of the play revolves around the friendly efforts of one friend to secure for the other her inheritance. To do so she impersonates her friend and for the time being Gloriana adopts the widow's weeds of the latter. All almost goes well, but the unexpected return of somebody upsets their plans and all ends happy for Gloriana and her friend.

The cast in support of Miss Scheff includes Al H. Wilson, George Everett, Ursula Ellsworth, June King, Curtis Karpis, Louis F. Spaulding, James Joseph Dunn, Marie King, Ed Madden, James Simpson, Margery Lane, Harriet Dress, Vera Dunn and the 100 per cent beauty chorus. The engagement is for two nights, with a special matinee on Tuesday.

Dolly Sisters.

A musical comedy with a title which actually has something to do with the book would appear to be unusual in itself. But "Oh Look," in which the delightful Dolly sisters are the twin stars, has this and also, the critics agree, "Oh Look" possesses a real plot, with music that tickles the toes, girls that delight the eye and costumes that are charming for their quaint loveliness.

F. Ray Comstock and Morrist Geat will present the Dolly sisters in "Oh Look" at the Lyric theater for two nights and Saturday matinee, beginning Friday night. The book is by James Montgomery, the lyrics by Joseph McCarthy and the music was composed by Harry Carroll.

Yankee and Rosika Dolly are two of the most popular stars of musical comedy. They have long been the toast of Broadway, and it is said in the lively entertainment, teasingly tuneful, plentifully comic, they are absolutely delightful. They come here direct from a season in New York, six months in Chicago, four months in Philadelphia and four months in Boston.

Orpheum.

Alexander Carr, who made a tremendous reputation for himself on Broadway through his co-starring association in the Fox and Permutt productions, and who was seen here several seasons ago, will make his reappearance at the Orpheum this week. Mr. Carr will be assisted by a company of three in presenting "An April Show-er," which was written by him in collaboration with Edgar Allan Woolf. It is described as a human story and has scored an emphatic hit wherever it has appeared. Long Tack Sam, the famous Chinese wonder worker who is just back from the Orient, will be an added feature. Leona Stephens and Len J. Hollister will be seen in a musical playlet, "Out in California." Newhoff and Phelps, in "Fragrant Tunes from the Garden of Melodies," have a little musical offering by William B. Friedlander, whose stamp of approval on any musical offering assures its success.

Hahn Weller & Co. are the three big voices in "Mokey, Hambo and Mirth." They offer a singing act that is big in every respect. Jimmy Savo, an eccentric comedian and dancer, assisted by Joan Franza, will present a "Salvo of Screams." The Rose King trio, tight wire dancers, complete the vaudeville show. Topics of the Day and Kinograms will be unusually interesting, as they both present some late sayings and happenings.

Moving Pictures

Strand.

The big new cinema production, "The Eyes of the World," which had its first local showing of the week at the Strand theater Sunday, is one of the truly great film achievements of the times, and it met with a most enthusiastic reception from a large and delighted audience.

"The Eyes of the World" is in nine sections, running about two hours in its showing. It evidently cost a large fortune, and there is reason to believe the claim that it was in process of making for nearly eight months. That a very large public was awaiting the production was made certain by the fact that Harold Bell Wright's celebrated story of modern life in California has had a sale of over 2,000,000 copies. As a picture it is replete with the stuff of which thrilling motion pictures are composed.

Among its well remembered incidents are the escape of the convict and his wanderings in the San Bernardino mountains, the kidnapping of Sybil Andrews, the flight of the girl into the hills and the search of the forest rangers for her, the tragic death of Taine and the banquet table and the fight of the lovers on the high mountain cliffs, which results in the death of one of the pair.

Majestic.

One of the funniest romantic comedies in which popular Constance Talmadge ever appeared, "A Virginius Vamp" played to capacity audiences at the Majestic Sunday. The engagement which is for four days promises to eclipse any previous performance of this star. "Virginius Vamp" is pure comedy and a delightfully amusing picture.

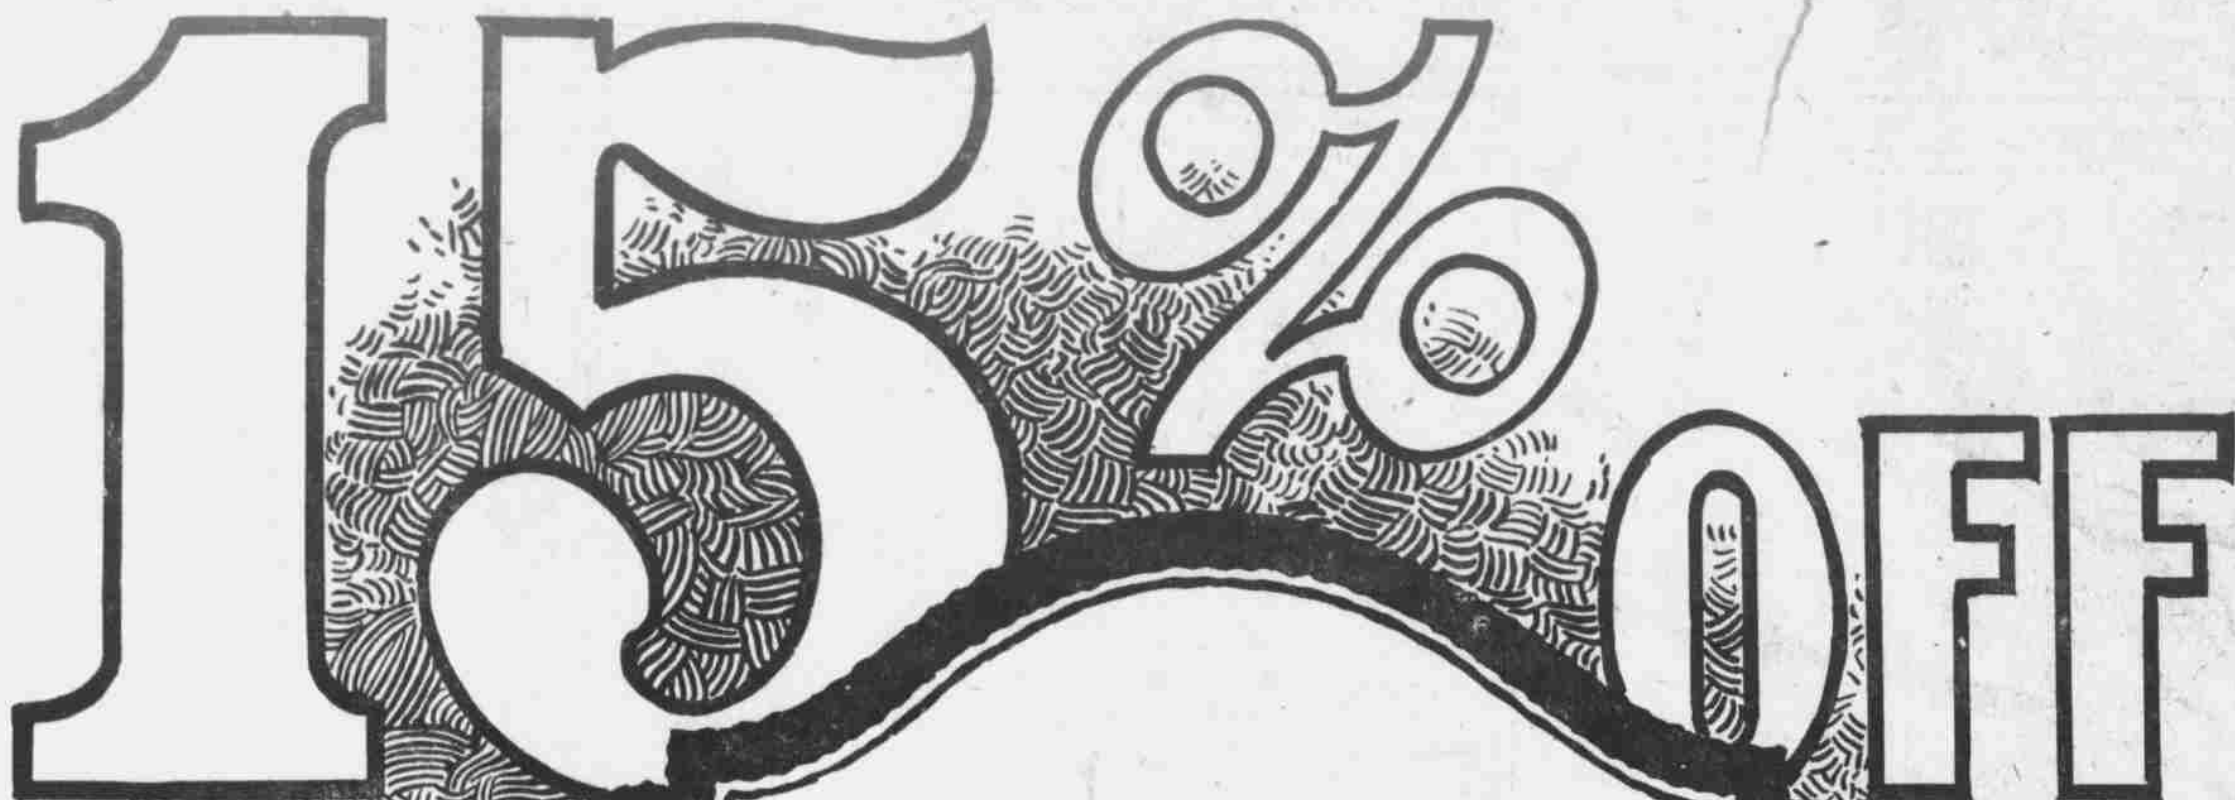

Princess.

Have you ever been in New York's Chinatown? The chief den of vice there have now been cleaned out by the police, but in "The Miracle Man," a new Paramount-Artcraft picture, which will be the attraction of the Princess today and Tuesday, a typical haunt of criminals of the olden days is shown in all its sordidness. From New York's slums the scene shifts to the high mountains near the sea, where a band of crooks are strangely transformed into useful and law-abiding citizens.

Holdup Yields $5.

"Shove 'em up," said two negroes Sunday morning, when they met George M. Harris at Linden avenue and Mulberry street. They reinforced the command with a pistol.

Harris holstered his hands. "They got $5 in cash and his watch."
